

Scottish Solution Focused Network Gathering

Playfield Institute and Robert Gordon University (RGU) are hosting an event to bring together solution focused practitioners from across Scotland to meet at Playfield Institute. The gathering is for practitioners who want to share their experience and hear what others are doing in their roles.

The Scottish Solution Focused Network (SSFN) is an association of solution focused practitioners developed by practitioners and educators at RGU and Playfield Institute. Both have been delivering solution focused training for many years and the SSFN has been developed to support and promote solution focused practice across Scotland.

Who should attend?

Practitioners who have had training in solution focused interactions and/or use a solution focused approach in their work.
